Democrats Surrender Sacred Right of Searching American Ships to All Foreign Powers at War

(By International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The right to search American merchant ships on the high seas in opposition to which the United States went to war in 1812 will be admitted by the state department during the present war.
An announcement to this effect was made by Acting Secretary Lansing today after consultation with the state department.
"The right to search all vessels on the high seas is not to be opposed by this government," Lansing stated. "The right of Great Britain or any other nation in war to stop American ships and examine their cargo no matter what their nature or destination is recognized by this government. All future protests and complaints filed by the United States will be based on this conclusion."
The result of the state department's decision will be that all American ships are liable to stoppage and examination on the high seas by foreign warships. Protests will be filed only when a ship is held a considerable length of time.

Business Men Subscribe Funds To Build Road to Tonogold

A committee of business men headed by William De Coursey went down Main street yesterday afternoon and collected $190 to be applied to improving the road branching off the road to the laundry north of town and leading to the new gold camp. This amount will be increased today. The county commissioners refused to contribute more than $25, which would not have sufficed to fill a single chuckhole in the stretch of sand below the gold camp. The offer was spurned and the men interested in developing new taxable values for Nye county told the commissioners they would do the work themselves rather than be stalled with such a paltry amount which any person of common sense would know could not be used to advantage. Chairman De Coursey was reminded of the fact that just before the primaries the county saw fit to pay $50 for two loads of sawbrush to be piled up on the Ely road, 100 miles from Tonopah, and he was told further that if he could not use the county funds to make the road to Tonogold passable he might as well keep the money, as the miners would do the work themselves.

Development and discoveries in the camp demonstrate unmistakably that Tonogold has all the earmarks of making good. Depth is the main thing to achieve and that is being accomplished at a rapid rate. One incline shaft reached 65 feet yesterday and another 58 vertical feet and eight others are down 50 feet. From two shafts ore of shipping grade is being hoisted and sacked, and another has 10 to 12 inches of same grade in sight in a 25-foot hole, and many others are saving a good quality of shipping values from small, rich veins and stringers in sinking on their various blocks. In three or four places there are large bodies of ore being opened up that pans very good for a width of from 2 1/2 to 4 feet that indicate a good grade of $15 to $20 mill ore.
W. J. Choklet, formerly interested in a lease at Manhattan, gave the camp an inspection yesterday and was greatly impressed with the excellent mineral indication of the camp and expects to start work in a few days on a block on the Shipway-Weneken Little Pete No. 1 claim.

Engineer Spurr, of the Tonopah Mining company, spent several hours in camp yesterday afternoon inspecting many of the principal leasers' workings.
Parker, Hyland, Moore & Rosey, operating the Colorado lease, struck some very good ore at 22 feet when they opened up 12 to 14 inches of ore that yields a long and satisfying string of colors. It is a soft tale and quartz vein matter carrying many colors in the brown hematite and the free gold is fairly well distributed through the most of it. An assay on five inches of the ore, made a few days ago, before it widened to above stated width, run $78.50. They are down 25 feet and the present showing in the shaft is considered almost equal to any in camp.
On the Little Pete claim No. 1 of the Shipway-Weneken estate in the southeast section of Tonogold, McNally, Mullen & Kelly are down 16 feet in their incline shaft and have opened up three feet of a quite solid brecciated quartz that is liberally stained with oxide of iron. Several assays made from samples picked at random from various portions of the vein return values as follows: Sample No. 1, $65 in gold, $2.35 silver; No. 2, $42.35. According to the panings it is believed the entire three feet will run $25 or better per ton. As no crosscutting has been done, it cannot be stated how wide the vein is at present depth. The owners are well pleased with what is in sight and feel confident of opening up something that will make a noise.
Holquist & Almqvist Lease No. 1 on the original find of the camp on Shipway & Weneken group have three feet of conglomerate that is panning a fair amount of colors at 25 feet from collar of shaft. They are placing a smithy near shaft and getting ready for an extended winter campaign of development.
W. H. Spencer made another discovery of ore Tuesday noon, making five separate veins that he has found to date. The latest lies midway between his 30-foot incline shaft and a 10-foot hole 30 feet west of the incline. He claims 10 inches of ore right at grass roots pans values at approximately $30 a ton. It is a tale quartz formation and looks promising.

ANTI-SUFFRAGIST TO ADDRESS VOTERS OF CAMP AT NEVADA THEATER.

Accompanied by Mrs. Jewett W. Adams, of Carson City, wife of former Governor Adams, of Nevada, and Mr. A. H. Howe, Miss Minnie Bronson, of New York city, general secretary of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, arrived in Tonopah this afternoon from Goldfield, to deliver an address at the Nevada theater this evening under the auspices of the Nevada branch of the organization.

Miss Bronson came to Nevada almost direct from a two months' tour of North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Montana, in which states, like Nevada, the question of granting suffrage to women by amendment to state constitutions will be submitted next Tuesday. In each of the states named Miss Bronson, who is a pleasing and able orator, delivered addresses every night, and she states that it is her impression that in each of them the voters will cast their ballots against woman's suffrage.

In view of the recent visit here of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage association and her remarks in support of votes for women great interest is being manifested by local voters in the address of Miss Bronson this evening, as it will afford them an opportunity to obtain first hand her views on the suffrage question. In her address Miss Bronson will reply to the arguments of Dr. Shaw and clearly point out why suffrage is not desired by women. Miss Bronson is a speaker of national prominence and will present her views in a highly entertaining manner. The public is invited to hear her.
